

This Little Bird

Once upon a time
in a land not far from here.
There lived a little bird
who liked to sit so still.

This little bird.
This little bird.
Sat in the sand.
Sat in the sand.

He sat so still
so still, so still.
He sat so still
in the sand.

Why little bird?
Why little bird?
Do you sit so still?
Do you sit so still?

© Jeannine Proulx 2008
www.melodies4kids.com

Oh, why little bird
do you sit so still
Do you sit so still
in the sand?

Then one day this little bird
he wandered into town.
And all the people
looked him up
and they looked him down.

Come sit with me
said the little bird.
Come calm your mind
and soothe your soul.

Bundle up so nice
and warm
and sit with me
in the sand.

So the people came
and the people sat
right next to the bird
imagine that!
And they sat so still
so still so still.
And they so still
in the sand.

Sit with me
said the little bird
come calm your mind
and soothe your soul.

Sit with me
so still so still.
Come sit with me
in the sand.
Come sit with me in the sand.